GOOD ROADS ... MORE BRIDGES

Mr. Braxton Musick says: "I do not suppose there is a man in the county but who wants better roads. I have never seen a rock crusher, hence I do not know whether it would be best for the county to purchase them or not. If I can be convinced that they will do the work necessary, and they are not expensive, I would have no objections to a levy being made, but at the same time I think it would be best for an individual or a company to own and operate the crushers."

Mr. T. E. Paull, a well-known druggist of Columbia, wants it understood that he is in favor of improving our country roads. He says: "The only way to accomplish this is for the Fiscal Court to buy rock crushers and put stone upon the highways. The grader is useful, but the work it does must be followed with metal. I am willing to pay my part to bring about better road conditions. I hope the County Court will make the necessary levy. I do not think more bridges should be built at this time."

Mr. Silas Cain, of Glensfork, was here Friday. In talking upon the road question he said: "I want to see the roads of Adair county in good traveling condition, and the way to make them passable at all seasons of the year, is for the Fiscal Court to purchase rock crushers and put them to work. I am also in favor of building bridges where needed. I believe good roads and bridges would be of untold benefit to the county, and I want to see the work commenced and carried to a successful termination."

Mr. M. Cravens says: "I am strictly in favor of public improvements, and especially do I endorse the movement to bring about a better road system. I think the Fiscal Court should purchase rock crushers and put them to work upon the public highways in the county. I think that a bridge should be built at Neatsville, and I am willing to pay my part of the tax for said purposes. The sooner we make better roads, the better it will be for the county."

Mr. Jo Judy says: "The people in my section so far as I know favor rock crushers to better the conditions of our county roads, and would make no kick should a few be purchased, but they do not think more bridges should be built at this time. I know myself that the roads are in a wretched condition, and if something is not done at once, it will soon be almost impossible to get over them with loaded wagons."

Mr. Sam Lewis, who does a great deal of traveling over the county, was met, and his views are: "I think the Fiscal Court will make a great mistake if it does not entertain a proposition to make the public highways better. In the winter season they are almost impassable and it would cost but little money to make travel comfortable. I want rock crushers purchased and metal put upon the roads. I am also in favor of bridges when needed. I will cheerfully pay my part of the tax. I have seen rock crushers in operation in other counties and I know they do the work satisfactorily. If the Court will macadamize our roads the farming class will receive the greatest benefit. Let the work begin as early as possible. A short time ago I was in Southern Indiana and took notice of the results of rock crushers. Before they were used a loaded wagon could not be hauled over the roads. Now automobiles are flying like a weaver's shuttle."

Mr. Jo Coffey, who is known to almost every man in Adair County, says: "I have always been in favor of public improvements and I think the roads in this county need attention. I would favor a reasonable tax for the purpose of buying machinery to crush rock to be placed upon the highways. I am also in favor of a bridge being built at Neatsville."

Mr. Frank Sinclair: "I heartily endorse the move for better roads. They

NO. 21

The Telephone No. of THE LYON BUGGY CO., Campbellsville, Ky.

21 YEARS ago the Buggy business was established in Campbellsville, by WRIGHT & TURNER—succeeded by LYON & TURNER—then TURNER BROS. & LYON—NOW THE LYON BUGGY CO.

The business has shown a steady increase each year, and has long been considered by all to be the largest dealers in all kinds of medium and high grade Vehicles, Harness, and Saddlery in Central Kentucky.

This business has been placed on the high pinnacle of success, by the proprietors, through knowledge of the business, gained by years of experience. They always have a large, complete and well selected stock on hand to select from.

The large contracts they make with the Manufacturers, enables them to make prices so low, that they not only in their home county, but reach out and bid for business, (and get it) in all of their adjoining counties.

It has been the Motto of this firm to make every job they send out an advertisement in both quality and price.

THEIR REPOSITORY IS NOW FULL of the very cream of the latest Eastern Styles. They have received several Car-loads of work, and will have several more in a short time. All this work was made up during the winter months, and, as any one posted in knows, that work manufactured during the winter months will wear longer, and give better satisfaction.

WHY?

Because the Manufacturers are not rushed with orders as they are during the Spring and Summer months; consequently take more pains with the construction, allowing each coat of paint and varnish time to thoroughly dry, and every detail is looked after closer than can possibly be done during the rush of the busy season.

ANOTHER VERY IMPORTANT FACT

to be considered is this: All manufacturers being desirous of holding their force together, and giving them constant employment, are always ready and willing to make concessions in prices to large buyers, who have nerve enough to place their orders 6 to 8 months ahead.

With these facts in view their buyer spent several weeks last October at the meeting of the Tri-State Carriage Dealers Association, which met at Columbus, O. He also visited most all the large manufacturers in the U. S.

During the time he made contracts with several of the most reliable factories in the country for large lots of work to be manufactured during the dull months of November, December and January, thus securing concessions in prices, which puts them in position to offer the trade greater value than they have ever been able to offer before. With this fact before you, we know it will pay you to Go to Campbellsville and Inspect Their IMMENSE STOCK, before you buy from other dealers or order from foreign Catalogue Houses.

It is an undisputed fact, that you will find a greater variety to select from in their immense repository, than can be found with any dealer in Central Kentucky; in fact, greater than any one manufacture can show you, as they have the product from several of the largest factories in the U. S., and, too, you will have the satisfaction of seeing just what you are getting.

Watch this space for the next 8 to 10 issues, as they will have something to say in each issue that will be very interesting to all who contemplate buying a vehicle this season.

They extend a hearty invitation to any prospective buyer in Adair and adjoining counties to come to Campbellsville and inspect their MAMMOTH Stock. If you can't go, then call them by telephone.

or write them and they will gladly send you cuts and description. If you don't buy from them, you both loose money.

would benefit the farmer more than any one else, and the people of Columbia are interested in the welfare of the agriculturist. I do not think the purchasing of rock crushers would hurt the tax-payers. The benefit derived would over reach the expense. I hope the Fiscal Court will make a liberal appropriation for the benefit of the county roads. I am not opposed to bridges."

Mr. E. H. Hughes, cashier of the First National Bank, says: "I want to line up with the majority of the people of Adair County, and will state that I am decidedly in favor of better roads. The grader we already have, and it does its work all right, but grades will not stand unless they are covered with stone. I believe, should the Fiscal Court purchase rock crushers, the action would meet the hearty approval of a large majority of the tax-payers of this county. Furthermore, I am not opposed to bridges where they are actually needed. As for myself I am willing to pay my part of the tax for the said improvements."

As a citizen and small tax payer, I suggest that the Fiscal Court of Adair county would make some mistake if it would purchase a stone crusher; or better two, and when a section of our public roads is graded by use of the county grader, follow it up with plenty of crushed stone, enough to make what is done permanent, for half enough would be a loss of all that the work would cost. Also build a bridge at or near old Neatsville, and on the upper and lower Greensburg roads. I think the day has past when tax-payers will protest against paying taxes for public improvements in our county, but are willing to keep abreast of the spirit of the times. Let those who have paid taxes to build several bridges in the last few years on other roads and creeks, and rivers, without a kick, now be made equal in convenience and improvements, on their thoroughfares.

Mr. Luther Williams, prominent merchant of Montpelier, speaks as follows: "I am strictly in favor of immediate steps being taken to benefit our community. They are in a fair condition in many places, and need improvement, hence it is an absolute necessity to work the roads in a substantial way. The grader is a necessary machine, the work it does must be followed with stone. I am also in favor for bridges where needed, and will cheerfully pay my part of the tax for said improvements."

Mr. J. R. Johnson, a representative citizen says: "Want better roads and rock crushers are the machines needed. I am in favor of the Fiscal Court taking the action it has taken, and should a levy be made I am satisfied it would meet the approbation of a very large majority of the people of Adair county."

A MOTHER'S GOOD BY.

Sit down by the side of your mother my boy;

You have only a moment to spare, I know,

But you will stay till I give you my parting advice.

It is all that I have to bestow.

You leave us to seek for employment, my boy,

By the world you have to be tried;

But in all the temptations and struggles you meet,

May your heart in the Savior confide.

You will find in your satchel a Bible, my boy,

It is the book of all others the best.

It will teach you to live, it will help you to die.

And lead to the gates of the best.

I gave you to God in your cradle my boy,

I have taught you the best I knew;

And as long as his mercy permits me to live,

I will never cease praying for you.

Your father is coming to tell you good by.

Oh! how sad and how lone we will be!

But when far from the scenes of your childhood and youth,

You will remember your father and me.

I want to heed every word I have said.

For it comes from a heart filled with love,

And my boy if we never behold you on earth,

Will you promise to meet us above?

Hold fast to the right, hold fast to the right,

Where ever your foot-steps may roam

Or forsake not the way of salvation my boy,

That you learned from your mother at home.

SPRING.

When the rivulets and rivers are a singing to the sea, When the robins and the bluebirds are a singing in the tree, When the balmy winds from Southland are a blowing full and free, And the buds upon the trees are soft, and swelling.

Then I walk at Mother Nature and she nods at me and smiles, And I look towards the woodlands with the sweet alluring wiles, And the dreams of springtime glories all the weary day beguiles, While I listened to the talk the birds tell.

When the sun is brightly climbing to the top of heaven's blue, When the hyacinth and crocus shyly push their buds to view, When the grass, frost-browned by winter, slowly takes a brighter hue, And the languor of the day is o'er me stealing.

Then I walk at Mother Nature and her smile is sweet and gay, And I haste to wander idly o'er the hills and far away.

When the glories never-ending of the springtime round me play, And the songbirds' notes new melodies revealing.

When the days are full of music and the nights are pleasant dreams, When the children plays and dances on the crystal flowing streams.

When the sun's warm rays are playing in a myriad golden glances, And old Winter lifts his chill and icy fingers.

Then I look with eyes of longing on the reel and red and line, And for days upon the river I begin to sigh and pine,

And I know the golden glories of the wood and field are mine, while the echo of the bird songs sweetly linger.

A dispatch from Manila states that 600 Moros were recently killed in a battle with Uncle Sam's troops.

THE POWERS DECISION.

Ruling of the United States Supreme Court.

Under the decision of the Supreme Court, Caleb Powers will again stand trial on the charge of being accessory before the fact to the murder of William Goebel.

Three times has Mr. Powers stood trial on this charge and three times has been convicted in the lower courts and the verdict set aside by the Court of Appeals. The assassination of Goebel took place about six years ago. In all that time no man, with the exception of Henry Youtsey, who confessed complicity in the assassination, has entered upon the final expiation of his crime. It can not then be charged with truth that any man has been railroaded into hanging or life imprisonment for an offence for which every man who had a guilty part in it richly deserves hanging.

The Supreme Court, in its decision, sees fit to criticise the character of the trials given Powers by the lower court, and Kentucky Republicans have made that the basis of their argument for his innocence.

The fact Powers is still living and still outside the penitentiary, although confined to jail on a charge on which the law does not permit the accused freedom on bond, shows that the treatment accorded Mr. Powers by the courts of Kentucky, whether he be innocent or guilty, is at least, an improvement over what passed as justice in the District of Columbia in the case of Mrs. Suratt charged with a like offense. If wrong has been done him, it is not irreparable. If he is guilty he has, for more than five years, fared better than he deserved.

There are men in Kentucky who may regret that Powers has not been hanged. If so, they are in the decided minority. The great majority of Kentuckians, Democrats alike with Republicans, are glad of every opportunity so far given him to prove his innocence, if that be possible, and desire to give him every other opportunity known to the law.

The time has long since passed when his execution would have satisfied party rancor or work to partisan advantage or disadvantage. The assassination of Goebel has neither forged nor forgotten, but the bitterness created by it has given place to the purpose of the people of the State that the men guilty of it shall be punished as an act of justice, not of revenge, and that all suspected of complicity in it, who can prove their innocence, can go free.

Mr. Powers in his next trial will enjoy the full advantage that this purpose brings him added to the sentiment of sympathy naturally awakened by the courage and strength of will that he has unfailingly exhibited under circumstances that have put both to the test. If he is again convicted it will be because of the fact that the passage of time has caused no change in the belief that he is guilty and not because he is a victim of unreason and impetuous hate. If he can prove his innocence there will be few to grudge him the happiness of his liberty. —Louisville Times.

School Children's Dyspepsia.

The common form of dyspepsia, or indigestion, which weakens the system of so many school children, is often due to improper or too much eating, however. We call attention to a common cause, it is, the disturbed conditions of stomach and bowels. This can be done by no means so well as by the use of Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Peppermint. Try it. Sold by Dr. J. N. Page, of Columbia, and Page & Moore, of Cane Valley, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

AFTER THE SUGAR TRUST

Convicting Evidence Given to the Interstate Commerce Commission by W. R. Hearst.

William Randolph Hearst is after the Sugar Trust. He has placed in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission documentary and other evidence conclusive that the Sugar Trust has been getting rebates from the railroads. These rebates on freight are such that no competitor can secure.

Convictions under the Interstate Commerce Act will subject the corporations to fines only. But upon the facts put in possession of the Attorney General by Mr. Hearst there is every likelihood that the Sherman Anti Trust Act can be brought to bear, in which case the penalty of imprisonment will be inflicted upon the conspirators in restraint of trade.

The spectacle of a few millionaire railroad men and trust criminals, in stripes and covering, starting at the aroused American people from behind the barred windows of a jail would be of infinite value in putting a curb upon the conscienceless and insolent piracy which steals the honest name of business wherewith to cloak itself.

Toward the end, toward the high cause of stopping the pillage of the people through degradation of the Nation's highways to the service of highway robbers, Mr. Hearst does his part by filing his complaint and placing his proofs with the Attorney General of the United States. It now lies with the Department of Justice and President Roosevelt to bring into court the men of corporations under accusation, and apply to them the law without fear of their owner, deference to their social position or owe of their wealth.—E-town News.

THEORY VS. PRACTICE.

During the College days of Ex-Mayor Besson, of Lynn, Mass., he had two of the college professors as guests at a hunting camp in the Maine woods. When they entered the camp their attention was attracted by the unusual position of the stove, which was set on posts about four feet high.

One of the professors began to comment upon the knowledge woodmen gain by observation. "Now," said he, "this man has discovered that the heat radiating from the stove strikes the roof and the circulation is so quickened that the camp is warmed in much less time than would be required if the stove was in its regular place on the floor."

The other professor was of the opinion that the stove was elevated to be above the window, in order that pure air could be had at night.

Mr. Besson, being more practical, contended that the stove was elevated in order that a good supply of green wood could be placed beneath it to dry.

After considerable argument each man placed a silver dollar on the table and it was agreed that the one whose opinion was nearest the guide's reason for elevating the stove should take the pool. The guide was called and asked why he had placed the stove in such an unusual position.

"Well," said he, "when I brought the stove up the river I lost most of the stovepipe overboard and had to set the stove up there so as to have the pipe reach through the roof."

He got the money.

All great men have their follies which is another way of saying that all have their weak points. Dr. Johnson, with all his philosophy, was not without a superstition. He was very careful not to enter a room with his left foot foremost. He was terribly afraid of death, too, and would not sitter it to be mentioned in his presence.

Julius Caesar, to whom the shouts of thousands of the enemy were but sweet music, was mortally afraid of the sound of thunder, and always wanted to get under ground to escape the dread full noise.

Marshal Saxe who loved to look upon the ranks of opposing armies fled and screamed in terror at the sight of a cat.

Peter the Great could scarcely be persuaded to cross a bridge, and whenever he placed a foot on one he would cry out with fear. Like the great man that he was tried to overcome his weakness, but he was never able to do so.

And Byron would never help anyone to salt at the table, nor would he be helped himself, and if any salt was spilled he would get up and leave.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The record of the regular session of the General Assembly, which ended at midnight, is to be credited with the passage of some excellent measures and the defeat of others that would have worked injury to the State. Some of the best bills before the Assembly, however, were defeated because a majority of the members failed to make use of the opportunity for disinterested and patriotic service.

Louisville, however, has little cause for complaint, the measures in which she was especially interested meeting with favorable consideration and prompt action.

The enabling acts, under which the Mayor has already appointed the Sewer and Water

Commissions; the bill providing the tax levy for the erection of a sanitarium for consumptives;

the bill for a uniform system of streets and the Juvenile Court bill represent legislation certain to prove of material benefit to the city. The Louisville delegation in both Houses has worked consistently and successfully in Louis ville's behalf, and to them the city owes in chief measures the chief fact that she fare so well.

Heaven is but one step higher than happiness, and we may all get very near it if we will.

Prayers for the good of our fellow-men will not be productive unless we follow them up with kind words and deeds, for the Lord's work can only be done on earth through human hearts and hands.

"The poor ye have always with you,"—that we may have the privilege of doing kindly deeds, which brings the greatest satisfaction that life can yield.

The smiling face that cheers a company will be even more appreciated at home—where it is so often least seen.

Grandmother may be behind the times, but she is a past master in the art of making home comfortable, and we can all profit by her experience.

Nothing so well seasons the supper and makes it appetizing as the love that is stirred in the cake, and shines in mother's face.

Go about the humble household duties cheerfully, and if you do not love the work remember that you work for those you love and because they love you. And lightens labors.

The cooking class is well enough, but there's nothing like practical experience in the home kitchen to perfect our girls in the science of good, wholesome, everyday cookery.

Don't condemn the schoolman's new fangled notions until you learn whether or not they are a help to John and Jennie in their climb up the hill of knowledge, and if they only make the ascent more interesting they are worth while.

The boy who finds nothing to read and nothing to entertain him in the home is pretty apt to hunt up entertainment outside. The price of a few books games, and music should not be considered when it furnishes the means of making the home so attractive as to hold all the family there.

City life looks attractive to the country young people, who are tired of their daily rounds in quiet places, but there is not a spot so lonely in all the world as in the heart of a great city, when one is alone and unknown, an atom in a seething mass of humanity, whose fate is the personal concern of none. Keep within the heartening touch of family and neighborhood friends, if possible, dear young people going out from among them only in quest of the higher life or because duty demands outside services for the good of the home.

Starving To Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My son was a weak frail useless druggist that I could not bear to see, so weaked that I could not sleep and never could get to sleep. I was induced to try Electric Bitters, with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health Tonic on earth. Soc. Guaranteed by T. E. Paul, druggist.

THE MAN WHO DENOUNCED BRYAN.

But what about John R. Walsh and his companion criminals who in 1896 denounced Bryan as an anarchist, and appealed to the people to save the honor of the nation by defeating the man from Nebraska. The easiest road to reach many of them today will lead through the criminal courts and into the penitentiaries of the land. Every life insurance president who is now on the way to prison for stealing sacred funds from the widows and the orphans, and giving the money to the republican campaign committee, joined John R. Walsh in calling Bryan dishonest. Every railroad president who is now dodging the officers of the law, who want him on charge of criminal rebating, joined Walsh in saving the honor of the nation in 1896, and joined him in circulating the lie that Bryan and his followers were dishonest. Every member of the trust whose officers are now of the beef trust, whose officers are now so fiercely resisting a call to the penitentiary, aided Walsh to circulate that libel in 1896. John Rockfeller, the king of all commercial criminals, joined the chorus of falsehood in 1896, and taught the members of his Sunday school class that Walsh was a patriot and Bryan a traitor.—Elizabeth-town News.

"PRINCE OF PEACE."

The Manila Times, referring to Mr. Bryan's lecture, "The Prince of Peace," says:

"The lecture of last night revealed Mr. Bryan in a new role, a role with which he is not generally associated—that of preacher.

"Somehow it seems so foreign for a man whose life has been devoted mostly to politics to deal with Christianity that in spite of his explanatory prologue and in spite of the harmonious and, may it be said, inoffensive manner in which he presented his subject, the element of surprise was not entirely overcome.

"Nevertheless it is we and our ideals rather than Mr. Bryan and his ideals that are mostly at fault. It is to our shame that we have allowed the method by which we choose as our national representation the best man or the man who represents or is believed by most of his fellow citizens to represent the best or most advantageous measures or principles, to degenerate so that it seems incongruous to mention politics and religion in the same breath.

"By soaring above this arbitrary and degrading limitation and obliterating the false lines which have been raised, Mr. Bryan again showed himself the large man that he is.

"He also showed that he is better than great—that he is good; and, however far astray the American people may sometimes go and however lenient they may at times appear toward those public men who transgress national ideas of decency, yet in the end they may be trusted to see true and cast out him who in his private life is believed to be unworthy of public honor.

"Whether Mr. Bryan will ever gain the proud distinction of being elected the first citizen of the United States is a question which no man can now answer. But, as many of those who heard him last night remarked, he has achieved more than that, he has made himself worthy of it."

CHAS. S. HARRIS, Editor

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interests of the city of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Post Office as second-class mail matter.

WED., MARCH 21, 1906.

The action of the Democratic Committee of the Third Appellate District last week calling a primary to determine who shall be our nominee and assessing each candidate $2,000.00 to enter the race does not appeal to us as truly Democratic. We have never favored a plan to shut out any worthy aspirant for any position of public trust and honor. A primary means that those who seek office must have money and without it they can not aspire. Such a policy in our judgment is not in accord with Democratic principles. A primary may be fair and it may be unfair, but it is expensive and carries no more safe-guards against frauds than delegated conventions which are inexpensive and unobstructive to those without a big balance to their credit in bank. Year by year the money influence is proving its power in both political parties. It is shutting out the man who qualifies without cash. We believe in a fair, free expression of the people, in the most natural way to select their candidates and also in the rights of every man to seek a position without the loss of a single dollar. Our fears may not prove correct, but the time will come, according to our views, when the costly methods of a primary will prove disastrous to our party unless they are abandoned. The young man who prepares himself for usefulness in the political field of action has but little showing under present action and tendencies. This paper has never favored a high tariff; it believes in equal privileges for all and a free, fair opportunity for every Democrat whether he has a million or as poor as a church mouse. In justice to our member of the committee, Mr. Gordon Montgomery, he voted for a convention and his vote was the only one favoring it.

The Supreme Court of the United States, in an opinion, rendered last week, decided it could not offer relief to Jim Howard, charged with the murder of Gov. Goebel. Howard will now go to the penitentiary for life, his attorney stating that he had done all he could.

A meeting of the Democratic Committee of the Third Appellate District was held in Lebanon last week and decided that our candidate should be selected by a primary, June the 2nd. This action virtually gives Mr. Hobson an open, unobstructed path to succeed himself and so far as we can see believe him entitled to it by merit. It is not likely that another aspirant will plank down $2,000.00 to enter a race against Judge Hobson.

The call from Gov. Beckham for an extra session of the Legislature for the purpose of placing a part of the burden of taxation on the whisky interest of the State is highly commendable and marks our chief executive as a man of determination, a Governor who has the courage to go against a powerful interest whose efforts, through lobbyists, had practically set the bounds of the revenue bill and left the rectifiers the beneficiaries of their efforts. The call came like a clap of thunder in an unclouded sky, to the Legislature just as it was ready to adjourn, but there is not a doubt as the Governor's position in this matter. He is right. In the face of such opposition and such powerful influence Gov. Beckham shows a game and patriotic man. That this step is for the good of the State and the people at large can not be disputed nor doubted. The Legislature will doubtless pass a law in accord with the Governor's wishes.

ROSA BONHEUR.

In the M. & F. High School, Miss Margaret Taylor, as an incentive to good work, promised her class in Language, that the one who could write the best paper on the life of Rosa Bonheur, she would ask the Adair County News to kindly publish. After careful grading Edgar Reed's paper won the honor.

Rosa Bonheur was born in France May 22nd, 1828.

Her parents were very poor and she did not have a very nice time, she wanted to live on a farm so she could run about and play.

After awhile her father moved to a little town in France called By. They lived over a bath house. Across the street there was a meat shop. There was a pig in front to advertise their meat. Rosa liked to go over and see the pig she thought it was very nice.

When Rosa's mother died she was seven years old and the oldest child in the family.

There was a little girl named Nathalie Micas that Rosa liked to play with. This little girl was very sick and delicate and the children liked to tease her.

One day when Rosa's father went away she went into his room and painted a bunch of cherries. When her father came back he was shown the painting and pronounced it very fine.

Her father was a great artist but he did not make much money.

When she was nineteen years old she won the finest prize on "Oxon Plowing." Everybody thought this picture so fine that she decided to paint a picture on "The Horse Fair." She studied a year and a half on different horses before she painted this picture. She lived a very long life and became one of the finest artists in the world. She died March the 22nd, 1899.

They will be assisted by Misses

Lina Rosenfield, Mae Duncan and Mary Williams from the Music Department.

Miss Katie Murrell will give the first of the series on Friday night, March 30th. Those who have heard Miss Murrell know that a rare treat is in store.

Last Saturday was St. Patrick's Day. The only persons in town to our knowledge, who wore the color—green, were Mrs. J. W. Luttrell and Dr. E. W. Reed, E. G. Atkins and C. H. Murrell. The above named, perhaps did not know that in Ireland natives were singing:

"St. Patrick's Day no more we'll keep. Our colors last were seen, For there's a bloody law against The wearing of the green."

The Columbia Laundry will start in a few days.

In another column will be found an advertisement of the Gradyville stock farm, under the management of W. L. Grady, proprietor. That advertisement speaks of the merits of the stock advertised, and which have been so thoroughly proven in this part of the State that no one will say that the picture is too highly drawn. The Peacock, known throughout the entire country have been meeting the demands for beauty, action and general purpose in high degree for years.

It is to be continued on this page.

For the worth of high class horses in this part of the State, Jordan Pocock has proven his worth as a sire and enters the service of 1906 unpaired. Mr. Grady also has a younger horse, sired by Jordan, that is as promising as Jordan was at same age or even much better than he was at that time.

Read the advertisement and make up your mind. As far as the stock is concerned, it is to be had at a fair price, and stock intrusted to his care will receive the best attention. He understands his business and is willing to apply his knowledge.

The mild winter may have been detrimental to some lines of business, but for the great majority it has been a blessing. The great saving of fuel and consequent reduction of cost of living is a self-evident proposition.

This is, however, but one of the benefits resulting from the mild weather. Not the least of the benefits has been, that it permitted work in the open air most of the time so far in the season, resulting in greatly increasing earnings for people of outdoor occupation, carpenters, masons, laborers, etc.

The benefit of the open winter is not however, confined to those who work in the open. As they have earned more, they have spent more, and there has been more money circulating in business generally. It has been a winter of comfort, greater economy in living expenses, and consequently more savings and more generally contented people.

Last Sunday afternoon a meeting of the members of the Baptist Church was held for the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the church in regard to the building of a permanent building or building a new one.

The attendance was not large, but without a dissenting voice the proposition to build a brick church of modern style in every particular, was endorsed. Three committees were appointed for this work, and are as follows: on Plans and Specifications; J. L. McLean, W. A. Coffey, Mrs. A. D. Patteon, Rev. J. P. Scruggs, On Ways and Means; C. S. Harris, R. F. Paul, John N. Conover. On Ascertaining the Sentiment of the Church Members, Frank M. Parnay, J. D. Todd, J. N. Conover, Mrs. Bette Butler. It will be the duty of the above mentioned committees to ascertain such information as will warrant an early report, and early action.

An Exchange in speaking of a deceased citizen said: "We knew him as old ten percent—the more he made the less he spent—the more he got the more he lent—he's dead—we don't know where he went—but if his soul to heaven went sent—he'll own the harps and charge me rent."

Hogard York, of Clinton county, who was convicted in the Federal Court at Louisville, last week, was granted a new trial. The attorney for the Government stated that he did not think he could again convict him, and dismissed the case.

The people of Casey county are active and confidently believe that they will get the proposed interurban road from Stanford to Liberty. We trust that their expectations will be realized.

There has been but little stock sold and bought in Clinton in the last two weeks. It is expected that the trade will open lively when fair weather sets in.

The new bank opened its doors for business yesterday.

In an hour or two thereafter she became perfectly rational, stating that the world had been a blank to her since last Fall.

NEW ENTERPRISE.

A LARGE BAND MILL LIKELY TO BE LOCATED AT COLUMBIA.

The Standard Lumber Company of Buffalo, New York, is seeking to locate a large band mill in or near Columbia, and two of its representatives have already been in this section investigating the timber, and the willingness of the people to sell it. Just what encouragement they received we are not informed, but feel safe in saying that they were favorably impressed with the quantity and quality of the timber. If the company can buy from two to three million feet of lumber, within a reasonable distance of Columbia, the mill will be placed here, otherwise it will be sent to another section. The gentlemen who were here, Mr. Kreinheider, the treasurer of the company, and Mr. Frazier, the Southern field manager, stated to a News man that if they secured the timber desired here, that they would put out in this section for timber and labor, from $75,000 to $100,000 annually. This would make things lively in business sense for Columbia, and give all who own timber, a good market. Mr. Walker, Bryant has been engaged to purchase the necessary amount of timber, and as soon as this is accomplished the machinery will be placed in position for work. It will be the purpose of the company to pay cash for logs on its yard, and to make the leading point of its operation, filling in with timber only when short on trade of this kind.

They have secured a good man here to represent them, Mr. Bryant is known to be thorough, reliable and competent in every particular, and knowing him as we do, this paper feels safe in predicting that success will crown his efforts and within a few months business will be humming in this section.

DEATH OF MRS. McCAFFREE.

If any mare should loose a colt by carelessness or rough treatment then the season is due. Jordan Peacock has sired more high priced colts than any horse in Kentucky. Cotton and mules have their ups and downs but the Peacocks are Always Up—The Horse Buyers are always Looking for Peacocks, and pay from two to three times as much for them as they do any others. Last Fall his Suckling Colts Sold from $100.00 to $125.00; Flowers Bros. sold a 2-year-old mare for $325; a 4-year-old gelding sold March 8, in a pair for $825.00. Did you ever know of any other horses in this part of the State that sold for such prices? When you breed to Jordan you are going to get a good Colt and one that's ready money as soon as it hits the ground. There have been some men that have sold their colts as soon as they bred the mares.

Now if you want to raise the best, bring your mares to Jordan Peacock.

CAPTAIN PEACOCK, A 3-YEAR-OLD STALLION

By Jordan Peacock and Dam by Colonel Tom, will make the season for $10 to insure. Captain Peacock is the best prospect I have ever seen. He has been shown at the Columbia Fair from a suckling colt up, under halter, single and double, and has worn the Blue every time and has defeated some of the best age horses shown at the Fair.

Bring your mares to my Horses and you are sure to get a colt and a good one.

I WILL STAND TWO JACKS AT $5. AND $7. to insure a mare in foal. Money is due in all cases when the mare is traded or leaves the neighborhood. All care will be taken to prevent accidents, but should any occur I will not be responsible. Grass at 50 cents per week or grain fed at cost. Thanking the people for past patronage and soliciting a continuance of same, I am respectfully, Lora, a little daughter of Wesley and Lattia England, who live in the Gradyville country, died on March 13th. She was a very bright child, the pet of the house, and was very fond of her mother. She realized that death was hovering over her, and her parents would be greatly grieved if she were to be buried without being with the angels. There is much sympathy for the distressed father and mother.

Mr. R. A. Walker, son of H. C. Walker, Gradyville, and who was reported last week as having met with an accident in Mexico, writes his father that the right leg had to be amputated above the knee; that he is in a hospital at Coahuila, and is doing well. Mr. Walker is likewise favorably impressed, but has but little faith in the rainfall of that section. He informs us that Mr. Geo. Nell, so he heard, is turning the earth with a sulky plow and that he has the sympathy of the people of this country.

GIVE THE BOY A CHANCE.

Judge Lindsay, of Danville, before the Y. M. C. A. of Louisville, last Monday, said:

"Jail sentences administered indiscriminately to boys tried for minor trifling offenses have produced multiplied crops of desperate state criminals. Society looking at the subject from the narrower viewpoint, owes it to itself to give the boys a chance. From the broader viewpoint of humanity it is plainly the duty of every community to save the boys from lives of crime, either by delivery from the surrounding of crime at home, or by refusal to consign them to jail with its contaminations.

"The most incorrigible of boys likes the truth-telling, the brave, the courageous fighting man or boy. The American boy is the most pugnacious being on earth. Give him his pugnacity a turn to right ends and to high aims, and in most of the cases where he is now suffered to perish morally, he will prove a useful man.

"It is to such men as Judge Lindsey who tries not to obtrude and anathematize, but to bless and to better, that American society looks for relief from pressing actual evils."—Louisville Herald.

DON'T BLINK YOUR EYES.

If ever you find yourself getting into the habit of blinking your eyes rapidly without cause, stamp the inclination out at once. An authority says that this habit will make your eyesight fail long before it ought.

Natural blinking is essential to clear and moisten the eyes, and the average number of natural blinks per minute is about twenty. These are necessary, and you do them unconsciously, but a nervous "blinker" will get in something like a couple of hundred per minute in bad cases, and the result of this is a big development of the eyelid muscles and a counter-irritation that acts on the optic nerve and renders the sight daily more weak and irritable.

The cure consists in keeping the eyes shut for at least ten minutes in every hour, thus resting them, and bathing the lids in warm water.

NIPPED IN THE BUD.

A special from Frankfort to the Louisville Times says: Senator Gorin, of Green county, nipped in the bud last midnight an effort to prevent the House Bill 252, fathered by himself and Representative Mitchell, Green, and passed by the Assembly, from getting over to the executive department for approval. The bill was properly enrolled and sent to the Assembly for comparison, but in a short time was missing. No trace of it could be found, and the Senator and Representative from Green hastily enrolled another copy and had it signed before the session closed. The bill prohibits the shipping of whisky into local option districts.

There has been more purloining of bills at this session than for many years past, and some method will have to be evolved to prevent this being done at future sessions. It has gotten so that members, after securing the passage of measures, have to keep them under their personal supervision until they get through the House as enrolled measures and into the hands of the clerks for transmission to the executive department.

There is some speculation and talk of the present extra session being extended for the purpose of enacting life insurance legislation. One of the bills of great importance which the Democratic Senate Rules Committee allowed to die in the orders of the day, in that body, was the Miller bill requiring an unusual accounting and distribution to policyholders. This bill was passed by unanimous vote of the House, and its advocates thought the Senate should have been allowed to vote upon it before the session closed.

Advocates of an appropriation for a Kentucky display at the Jamestown, Va., Exposition, the bill to provide which was lost in the closing hours of the regular session, are feeling good over the call for the extra session. They feel that they still have a chance, and will call in a body upon the Governor and try to get him to incorporate this matter in a message to the Assembly. Of course they do not expect the Governor to do this until it becomes apparent that the rectifiers' tax question will be easily and quickly disposed of, and that the session will not be long drawn out with this matter.

If coffee grinds as if it were tough the flavor will be improved by heating and letting it get cold before grinding.

HELPFUL HINTS.

When cutting new bread, dip the knife in hot water, and you will find the task much easier.

Turpentine mixed with stove polish prevents rust and gives a brighter gloss than the use of water.

When you build your new house have an upstairs back porch where the bedding can be aired.

Draw a sugar sack on your hand when stirring mush and it will not burn as it sputters out at you.

After blacking your stove apply a coat of linseed oil. The stove will not burn red spotted near so quickly.

For setting colors I find that very hot salt water is better than cold, and does quite as well as any other preparation.

When sewing steadily, a frequent change from long to short needles, and vice versa, is a very restful thing for the fingers.

All skirt braid should be shrunk before putting it on the skirts, or it will shrink afterwards and draw the skirt in little wrinkles.

Kerosene added to boiled starch a tablespoonful to a quart, will prevent the irons sticking and give a good gloss to the clothes.

Rats will leave a place where plaster of paris is mixed with brandy or flour or anything they will eat. It interferes with their digestion.

The ugly green marks caused by damp on stone steps can be removed by scrubbing with water in which chloride of lime has been dissolved.

TIME FOR PRAYER.

An American preacher at the close of his sermon, said: "Let all who are in the house who are paying their debts stand up."

Instantly every man, woman, and child, with one exception, rose quietly to their feet.

"Then," said the preacher, after they had seated themselves again, "let every man not paying their debts stand up."

The exception noted—a careworn, hungry, cadaverous individual, dressed in his last Summer suit—slowly rose.

"How is it, my friend," that you are the only man not to meet your obligations?"

"I run a newspaper," he meekly answered, "and the brethren here, who stood up a moment ago, are my subscribers, and."

"Let us pray," exclaimed the minister hastily.—Mayfield Mirror.

Governor Beckham has appointed members of the Board of Commissioners for the charitable institutions of Kentucky General Percy Haley, of Frankfort; Dr. Milton Board, of Hardinsburg, and Judge D. B. Redwine, of Jackson. Each of the commissioners receive a salary of $2,500 a year and traveling expenses, and the board is allowed a Secretary at a salary of $1,200 a year. Every Governor for the past sixteen years has recommended that the commission be created, and it is predicted that it will save the State many times the amount paid the Commission in salaries.

Well Worth Trying.

W. H. Brown, the popular pension attorney, of Pittsfield, Vt., says: "Next to a pension, the best thing to get is Dr. King's New Pills. 'He writes they keep my family in splendid health.' Quick cure for Headache, Constipation and Biliousness, 25c. Guaranteed at T. E. Paul's drug store."

The removal of the office has brought about a talk of a Rural Route, which will likely be established in a short time.

Caleb Powers' attorneys have been taught a lesson they had never learned until the late decision of the Supreme Court. They doubtless have much to learn yet that will be plain to them before they are through with Bob Franklin and Charley Bronston. We have courts of Justice in Kentucky and these worthies ought to have learned it without going so far to find it out.

Orders Disseminated.

The orders of general health have been disseminated, when you feel under the weather, weak, tired, irritable, and suffer from headache, indigestion, and location, etc. The only cure, safe and permanent cure for this condition is Dr. Caldwell's (dissolve) Syrup Peppermint. It has a gentle action all its own, superior to that of pills, powders, and earthenware waters. Try it. Sold by Dr. J. N. Page, of Columbia and Page & Moore, of Cane Valley, at 50¢ and $1. Money back if it fails.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Of Valuable Timber and Farm Lands in Adair and Russell Counties, Kentucky, Adair Circuit Court of Kentucky.

N. B. MILLER, Executor of J. P. Miller, Etc., Plaintiffs.

SARAH A. MILLER, Etc., Defendants.

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale of the Adair Circuit Court rendered at the September term, 1905, in the above-mentioned cause, and undesignated Master Commissioner and Special Commissioner of said Court will proceed to offer for sale to the highest and best bidder, at Public Auction, at the Court House door in Columbia, Adair County, Kentucky, on MONDAY, MAY 21st, 1906, about the hour of 1 P. M. (being the first day of Circuit Court) on a Credit of Six and Nine months, equal installments, the Eight Tracts of land mentioned and described in said Judgment and Order of Sale for a more particular description of these lands, rents for 1906, will be reserved. The purchasers will be required to give bonds with good security, bearing six percent interest from date until paid, payable to N. B. Miller, Special Commissioner, for such services as the court may hereafter require, having the same effect as if it had been agreed to pay the same in addition to the amount of the bid.

EIGHTH TRACT: 71 acres in Russell County on the waters of Crocus Creek, adjoining the 3rd tract, and the same formerly owned by Abraham Aaron, and now resided in, and will be sold subject to the Homestead right of said M. A. Sullivan and her children.

Reference is made to the Judgment and Order of Sale for a more particular description of these lands, rents for 1906, will be reserved. The purchasers will be required to give bonds with good security, bearing six percent interest from date until paid, payable to N. B. Miller, Special Commissioner, for such services as the court may hereafter require, having the same effect as if it had been agreed to pay the same in addition to the amount of the bid.

FIRST TRACT: 130 acres lying and being in Russell County, Ky., on the waters of Crocus Creek, and where H. C. Hadley now resides. About 115 acres of rich land in a high state of cultivation, and 15 acres of fine poplar and oak timber, and the best ridge land in Russell County.

SECOND TRACT: 83 acres adjoining the first tract on the north. About 70 acres in the finest quality of poplar and oak timber, and 13 acres in cultivation. No buildings. The timber on this tract has been cut and estimated, and there are about 450 poplar trees averaging 31 inches in diameter, and about 500 oak trees averaging 26 inches, and much other valuable timber. These two tracts are known as the Todd land, and will be sold separately, and then together, and the highest bid accepted.

THIRD TRACT: 108 acres adjoining the second tract, mostly cleared, and in cultivation, and known as to Kelsey or Ram�s place. A good home.

FOURTH TRACT: 42 acres in Adair County on the waters of Crocus Creek, and 1 mile west of Miller's Store, and known as the John Grant place.

FIFTH TRACT: 37½ acres in Adair County on the waters of Crocus Creek, and known as the McClure estate, and lying and being in Russell County, Ky., on the waters of Greasy and Clifty creeks, of Cumberland river, and about

2 to 3 miles from the mouth of Greasy creek, from which place the timber can be run to Nashville or Cincinnati, via Burnside, at small cost, as labor is cheap in that locality. 50 cents per day gets the best laborers.

These lands have been owned by Mrs. Miller and her kinsmen for the last 70 years and have been carefully guarded and never before the market. This is a voluntary sale and made on account of the infirmities of age and the desire of the owner to become free from the care of timber lands.

EIGHTH TRACT: 490 acres, on the waters of Greasy Creek, and known as the Mulberry Bottom, about 390 acres in timber of the finest quality, and 100 acres of rich farming land in Creek bottoms, and rents for half the grain. Thousands of barrels of corn have been sold from this farm. It is the "Egypt" of Russell County.

SECOND TRACT: 384 acres on the waters of Clifty Creek, and known as the Kean tract, about 320 acres in timber of the best quality, and 64 acres cleared. Here is to be found the Giant Oak in great abundance. Right of way to a graveyard reserved.

THIRD TRACT: 152 acres on the waters of Clifty Creek, and known as the M. A. tract, about 82 acres in fine timber of all kinds, and 70 cleared.

These lands have been surveyed recently and timber on each tract counted and estimated by careful business men, and the result of the count is given below. The names of the timber, number of trees and diameter in inches from 20 inches and up, and from 12 to 19 inches inclusive, are given. Surveys, plots and estimates in detail can be seen by calling on

A. H. Ballard, Columbia, Ky.

All parties are requested to go upon the lands and count the timber for themselves and verify these estimates. A. H. Ballard, Columbia, Ky., and A. A. Miller, Crocus, Ky., will go with parties and show the lands and boundaries, and either of them can be reached by telephone and daily mail. This is undoubtedly the largest and finest body of timber land to be found in Southern Kentucky, and never before on the market. It has attracted the attention of lumber men for years and will pay any man to see it. This will be the biggest sale of lands that ever took place in Adair and Russell Counties. Within the last year less than 600 acres of Adair County land sold to the highest bidder for $38.00.
